

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

VOLUNTARILY REFUSED

BY FLORENCE FOX

"Anne Wyatt! Cousin Anne!"

A crisp and girlish voice rang excitedly through the house.

Cousin Anne called softly from an upper room.

"Come here, dear, second story front."

Daisy rose from the sofa like a whirlwind, scattering several letters and a book upon a table, exclaiming breathlessly:

"Jason is dead? you out in Denver?"

"Yes," and his money—he left it to you, of course."

"Of course he did nothing of the sort," said Daisy, "but he has given you a half of the money goes to the church and half to me, if I refuse, half to the church and half to the afore-said old friend."

"That is not so bad," soothed Daisy, "remember, every cloud has a silver lining."

"The particular cloud has a golden lining that does not relieve its stygian darkness in the least. It is gold that has been left to me unconditionally, instead of which I am left to the church."

"Can you refuse?"

"And have the usurper victorious? I'll have him, if only to make his life miserable."

Daisy pumped into a chair and burying her face in her hands indulged the tears that for several hours had been struggling to escape.

"Cousin Anne bent over her with endearing words."

"I am glad you came to me. We may as well plan to mend matters." Daisy spoke eagerly. "You will help me, won't you?"

"Here are the letters; read this, it explains itself."

"If you are willing to abide by the will of Jason Morse's will, our client will at once kindly oblige him by leaving the business in the West to press it. It will be necessary for him to return without delay. Yours, etc., Wright, Sales & Co., Denver."

"I will answer telling him, 'I left him here,' Daisy remarked. 'I felt you would be able to help me out of this difficulty.'"

"At that moment Jane, the maid, entered and laid a telegram on the table."

"I will arrive at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning. Most return on midnight train."

"Wednesday? This is Wednesday? It is after 5 o'clock. O, Anne, what a hurry!"

"Anne! The man is a stranger to me."

"Alfred Russell, my client—" exclaimed Attorney Sales.

He was in her hands indulged the tears that for several hours had been struggling to escape.

Every Heart-Ache

Every pain in the breast, difficult breathing, palpitation, fluttering or dizzy spell means that your heart is straining itself in its effort to keep in motion. This is dangerous.

Some sudden strain from over-exertion or excitement will completely exhaust the nerves, rupture the walls or arteries of the heart, and it will stop.

Relieve this terrible strain at once with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. It invigorates and strengthens the heart nerves, and relieves the heart action, and relieves the pain and misery.

Take no chances; make your heart strong and vigorous with Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

I suffered terribly with heart disease. I have been treated by prominent physicians for my trouble. I went to a physician who claimed that he would cure me, and in connection with his medicine he came near making me a cripple. Some time before I was cured, I was told that Dr. Miles' Heart Cure was the best medicine for my trouble. I saw my condition, and I bought a bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I gave it little attention at first, but it returned from Memphis, when I was cured. I am pleased to say I have cured myself.

CHARLES GOODRICH, Caruthersville, Mo.

"Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is sold by the bottle with guarantee that it will cure your heart. If it fails, I will refund your money."

NEW YORK, March 31.—Daniel Leroy Dresser, brother-in-law of George W. Vanderbilt, has been again involved in going out of the U. S. Shipbuilding company, the collapse of which transformed him from a banker into a bankrupt.

Though still a bankrupt, Mr. Dresser has been sued for $250,000 by John W. Young, the promoter of the Shipbuilding company, who also wants interest on the sum since May 9, 1902.

How a bankrupt can pay a million dollars is one of the mysteries of the suit. Mr. Young's lawyers are the firm of Sumnerwell, Shoup & Vermilya. The complaint has been served upon Mr. Dresser.

Mr. Young said that on December 12, 1902, he was owner of 26 of 1000 bonds of the Shipbuilding company, 250 shares of its preferred stock, and 550 shares of the common stock, amounting to $250,000.

These securities were given to Mr. Dresser with the understanding they were to be used only as collateral for loans to be made by Mr. Young and to be returned to him on demand. He said all he ever got was seventy-six of the bonds, and is suing for the balance.

Mr. Young said he never used any of the securities, and never returned them. This will be cleared up at the trial of the case.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Campbell and daughter Florence arrived in New York last Thursday and are registered at the Imperial hotel on Broadway. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell came to New York to meet their son, Serge Campbell, who has spent the past three years in Switzerland and Germany, and arrived in New York Friday.

The Baltic steamer arrived last Friday, bringing quite a number of Utah people. Among them were Messrs. Serge Campbell, Keith Crismon, Hugh J. Cannon, Quayle Cannon, A. W. Chandler, Wilkins, Howard, Watson, Downs and Berlingham. They reported quite a stormy trip, and most of them left the next day for Salt Lake City.

Hugh J. Cannon, who has spent the past few years in Germany, arrived in New York Friday and remained until Sunday, when he left for Salt Lake.

As soon as Mr. Quayle Cannon, one of the passengers on the Baltic Friday, stepped from the gang plank, he was handed a telegram, stating the death of his mother. Mr. Cannon left New York in haste to try and reach Salt Lake before the burial of his mother.

Mrs. Mabel Hamlin, known on the stage as Mabel Hite, was granted a divorce from Ellis E. Hamlin by Judge Slover at Independence, Mo., March 21. The Salt Lake people will remember the romantic marriage of Mr. Hamlin and one of the stars from "The Telephone Girl," Miss Hite, at Salt Lake, while playing there. Mrs. Hamlin charged that her husband had deserted her, and there was no defense. Judge Slover also issued an order permitting her to resume her maiden name, Mabel Hite. The actress said that there was no truth in the report published several weeks ago that she was engaged to be married to Arthur Duffy, the champion runner, now in Australia. "He is a friend of mine, but I have no intention of marrying him."

Misses Hattie and Clara Young arrived in New York Friday, and will remain at home during the spring vacation at Vassar, which is one week. The girls have been studying hard, and are very glad of the rest before they begin the year's work.

Messrs. Victor Madden and David Stole of Brigham City arrived in New York Friday from Salt Lake. They will leave today for Boston, where they will sail to Liverpool and will go from there to Denmark and Sweden, where they will perform the duties of a mission.

Mr. Munser reached New York last week and will sail for Europe next Wednesday.

Last Wednesday Miss Lulu Snow gave a box party to Mr. Herman Klein's lecture on "How to Use the Voice in Song and Speech," at the Lyceum theater. Her guests were Misses Leone Strong, Dot Pelt, Edith Ellerbeck, Mrs. Ella Squires and Mrs. Robert Easton. The box was complimentary to Miss Snow from Mr. Alexander Lambert.

The Players' club went the "Lamb's" club 45 better by paying $100 for one orchestra seat for the Joseph Holland testimonial, William Gillette's and Ethel Barrymore's contribution to the testimonial performance was the one-act play "The Silent System." Another addition to the program was the appearance of Reginald de Koven at the head of a specially organized orchestra.

Mr. James H. Anderson, commonly known as "Fussy Jimmie," arrived in New York last week after spending the past three months in Washington on business. Mr. Anderson left Sunday night for Salt Lake.

This year will go down in baseball history as a record-breaker by reason of the remarkable pitching discoveries. Pitcher "Billy" Hoge has startled the world by materializing what is called the "bullet ball." This is a wonderful improvement from the first curved balls. Hoge has been playing these years on the Pacific coast, with Seattle and Spokane. For a long time he used the raised ball, a sort of jump, but he could not bring the "bullet" earthward. One day a peculiar motion of the wrist, an extra blanch of the digits, had the desired effect, and instead of continuing to raise the ball floated down and away. Every one is talking of Hoge's puzzling discovery.

Messrs. A. W. Chamberlain and Lester Lambert arrived in New York Saturday and expect to sail Wednesday for Netherlands. Mr. Lambert, while in New York, has been transacting business for the Lambert Paper company of Salt Lake.

A letter was received from Mr. Robert Easton, who is playing with "The Bonnie Rye" in New York, in which he states that they have all been engaged, and they were booked for and have met with such success that they have extended their engagement until the last of May, making the North Canadian route and going as far north as Halifax, Nova Scotia.
